Message

I am very happy to know that Uttara University is going to celebrate 9th Convocation. This convocation marks the culmination of years of dedication, perseverance and hard work by our graduates, their families and the faculty who have guided them.

Graduates, this celebration is a testament to your achievements and the opportunities ahead. As you step beyond the university, remember that education is not merely about acquiring knowledge but about applying it responsibly to contribute to the development of society and country. The future is full of challenges, but also abundant with opportunities. You must strive to make your mark with integrity, innovation and commitment to excellence.

One pressing issue is the increasing trend of students leaving the country for higher studies after completing their secondary education. While this has been a global trend, it has grown significantly in recent years, highlighting a perceived lack of confidence in our local institutions. To reverse this trend, we must focus on improving the quality of education and research in our universities to ensure that students find compelling opportunities at home. I believe both public and private universities will play an important role in this endeavour.

Efforts are already underway to depoliticize our education sector and ensure merit-based appointments across institutions. These changes are vital to restore trust and elevate the standards of higher education.

Graduates, as you embark on your journey carry forward the values of integrity, curiosity, and service. Your contributions will be essential in shaping the future of Bangladesh.

Congratulations to you all. The world awaits your impact.

Message

It is an honour and rare privilege with which I participate in Uttara University's 9th convocation on 25th January of the 25th year of the 21st century; an auspicious day indeed! Although this is my first time experiencing a convocation in the Uttara University fashion, I can testify through my over three-decade teaching legacy that this convocation I look forward to the most. The young chaps, who now hold the honour as undergraduates proved that they are ready to take over the world. But this monumental task was only possible through the tireless, concerted effort of their parents and guardians, teachers and this academy, but themselves, most importantly. We felicitate your success.

Time flies fast and the 9th Convocation is already the second convocation since Uttara University moved to the state-of-the-art permanent campus on July 1, 2023. Congratulations to the classes of the 9th convocation. From this day forward, you have the responsibility to face the world on your own, but you also possess the tool to shape your future on your own terms: your education from Uttara University. But you also become a student of the world today, for the road to learning is a never-ending one. The longstanding commitment of the academician body of Uttara University is also a reason for your success.

Across time, Uttara University has adapted to meet the needs of students, upgraded to meet the demands of higher education, and stood against the test of time for 22 years and counting. The wide array of 14 academic disciplines Uttara University provides across five Schools concurs with the global academic landscape. As the whole nation developed, Uttara University has also reformed from its former motto "Quality Education at Affordable Tuition" to "Excellence in Higher Education and Research."

For the first, time in Uttara University's 22-year operation, we have ranked 276th in the World University Ranking for Innovation 2024 (WURI) among the Global Top 300 Innovative Universities. The very recent achievement is a testament to how fervent Uttara University stands about its new motto. The 2024 ranking is only the beginning of a series of accreditations and further rankings this university is striving to achieve in the upcoming five years. Conjunct with that roadmap is our desire to contend with the top-ranking private and public universities of Bangladesh. Eventually, Uttara University will bestow upon the brightest minds of our country Doctoral degrees on the most challenging and in-demand topics.

To the graduating class of the 9th Convocation, remember that the only way out is forward. March on! Congratulations once again. You make the Uttara University family proud.
